Project proposal: an app that helps with cooking (e.g. deciding what to cook). A user can: enter what ingredients they have and find recipes that suit them; simply search for recipes by keywords or types; post and share their own recipes or their attempts at other recipes, see others' posts, comment on posts; etc.

Team agreement:

- Team name: Byters
- Team members: Emilija Gegužytė, Kristina Noreikaitė, Ugnė Rupšytė, Ieva Survilaitė.
- Designated leader: Ieva
    - How the leader was elected and why it was done that way: We voted, because of democracy.
    - What are their responsibilities?: Administration: communicate with lecturer, be the deciding vote.
- Common desired grade (team ambition): 8
- Key team rules: 1) the majority wins (when making decisions); 2) peer review someone's completed task by at least one other person before submitting.
- Key principles governing work distribution: dividing work more or less equally.
- Capacity constraints: can't meet on weekends.
- Team meeting times and group work: Try to organize group work at least once a week. One call is mandatory once a week.
- How team will track progress: calls/meetings and teams chat.
- Sanctions and punishment for breaking team agreements: a written warning.
- Whether or not the team will use AI tools and its assistance in lab works: yes.